My dear Uri,

Your words about the possibility of holding the Premier Levy Eshkol luncheon as soon as the present headaches are over are still ringing in the ears of fifty members of the Foreign Press Association.

If we knew then what was going on we would not have pressed you as we did. At the time, it is now evident, we had known too little to appreciate the reasons motivating the delay.

Any time you say. And many, many thanks.

Best regards.

Sincerely,

ES
